

LOVE

If thy love is virtuous love,
And thy heart is interwove,
With thy loves thou wilt have bliss,
Thy wedlock will prove happiness.
But if thy love is of that fire
Kindled with unchaste desire,
Check it, and turn away thine eye,
Ere thou experience misery.